

Still Talking.

Owosso Interested—Mrs. Fred Townsend, of 919 S. Shawanaw Street, Adds Her Testimony.

Our representative investigated another case, and it adds another link to the long chain of evidence that has set Owosso talking. Mrs. Fred Townsend is the lady who speaks here. Our representative found her at her place of residence, No. 919 S. Shawanaw Street, and she said:

"Doan's Kidney Pills have taken all the pain out of an aching back for me. I was greatly troubled with a pain and distress across and low down in my back. It was weak and ached constantly, any exertion or work rendered it worse. I would be forced to lie down, and then could find ease only in one position. I had read about Doan's Kidney Pills, and got a box at Johnson & Henderson's drug store. They worked exactly as I had been told they would. I have not suffered from a lame back since, and have recently done things I could not do before without bringing on severe trouble. I can now take long walks without any bad effect to my back. I know what to take now if backache should return at any time. You are welcome to use my statement in any way you wish."

In these times when backs are lame, when almost every other one we meet has now and then or all the time a back that aches or pains—"a weak back," "a bad back," "a back that makes their life a misery to bear"—and still they go on day by day in pain and suffering. Now, 'tis the easiest thing in the world to give this played-out back "a blow" that will settle it and put it in its place a new one equal to any. It's just like this: 'Tis at the cause; most backaches come from kidney disorders. Reach the kidneys, start their clogged-up filters in operation; when this is done you can say good-bye to backache. There are many grateful people in Owosso who can tell you how simple a trick it is. Read the newspaper.

IS GUILTY AS CHARGED.

Martin Thorn Declared by the Jury the Slayer of Guldensuppe.

REPORT THAT HE OWNS THE CRIME,

Which He Is Said to Have Denied Later—Meets the Jury's Verdict Without the Least Sign of Weakness.

New York, Dec. 1.—Martin Thorn was yesterday convicted of murder in the first degree in killing William Guldensuppe, his predecessor in the affections of Mrs. Augusta Nack, at Woodside, L. I., on June 25. At the request of Thorn's counsel the passage of the death sentence was deferred until next Friday morning. Thorn heard the jury polled on their verdict, but his face never changed color during the trying ordeal. With lips firmly compressed and jaws set hard he faced the judge, jury and court room full of spectators with well-feigned stolidity. About three weeks ago Thorn's first trial on the charge of murder was begun, but owing to the illness of a juror it had to be abandoned after three days. A second trial opened a week ago last Monday, and counting out three days on which the court did not sit the trial consumed only six days.

His Story Was of No Effect.

Mrs. Nack's testimony during the trial made it compulsory for Thorn's lawyers to change their line of defense in the second trial, and they made a direct charge against Mrs. Nack and insisted that she herself was the instigator and perpetrator of the murder. Thorn being ignorant of the killing until after Guldensuppe had been shot by Mrs. Nack. The woman was not produced during the second trial, but Thorn went on the stand and substantiated all the assertions made by the lawyers as to the midwife's guilt. His story, as the verdict shows, did not have the desired effect upon the jury.

Jury Deliberated Three Hours.

Judge Maddox's charge was carefully prepared and well delivered. It was acknowledged by the lawyers for the prisoner to be extremely lucid, fair and impartial. The jury remained in deliberation just three hours, when it sent word to the judge that it was ready to render a verdict. The fact of the jury remaining out so long gave hope to the defense. But when it came in—"Guilty of the charge preferred"—were the ominous words which fell from the lips of the foreman of the jury. Thorn's lawyers moved for a new trial on the ground that the verdict was not in accordance with the weight of evidence, but the motion was overruled.

Contradiction as to a Confession.

When Martin Thorn had been led back to his cell after the conviction he admitted that the verdict was just, and that he and not Mrs. Nack killed Guldensuppe. This acknowledgment of guilt took place while Thorn's cell in the jail was being prepared for him. He said: "I am glad it is over and the verdict given. I am convicted and am contented. It was I who killed Guldensuppe, and I believe every word that Mrs. Nack said upon the stand was substantially correct. When I was on the stand I lied when telling the story as I did, but I lied to clear myself. It is no use carrying it any further. I am guilty and am convicted. It is what I expected and what I suppose people think I deserve, and perhaps I do."

New York, Dec. 1.—The Herald today prints Martin Thorn's denial of the report that he had confessed.

ESCANABA DOCKS ON FIRE.

Two of a Schooner's Crew Lost and Property Worth $350,000 in Ashes.

Escanaba, Mich., Nov. 30.—Late last night a fire broke out on the steamer Nahanta, and before it could be controlled it spread to the ore docks, the largest in the world. Two of the crew of the steamer are known to be lost and several others are injured. The steamer was lying at the dock loading ore and was only partially loaded. From the steamer the fire spread to dock No. 4, which was partly loaded with ore and lumber. The lumber was soon a mass of flames and from this it spread to the next dock. At midnight two docks were on fire and tremendous efforts were being made to save the other two which comprise the group. At 1:30 a. m. the fire had not been controlled. The loss will probably reach $350,000.

MURDER AT CHICAGO IS OUT.

Body of Mrs. Merry Found with the Help of a Witness of the Murder.

Chicago, Nov. 29.—The mystery surrounding the disappearance of Mrs. Paulina Merry from her home at 50 Hope street was solved yesterday by the confession of Thomas Hickey, who was arrested on suspicion. Hickey told how Christopher Merry choked and beat his wife a week ago last Friday. Then finding it impossible to restore his wife to consciousness he decided to put her "out of her misery" by beating out her brains with a poker. Late yesterday afternoon Hickey led a party of police to an uninhabited portion of the city, where Mrs. Merry's body was found buried beneath a few inches of loose dirt by the roadside.

On Nov. 29 the police learned that Mrs. Merry had been made away with by her husband. When the police began their investigation the 3-year-old son of Merry told them that his father had killed his mother. Following this clue it was found that Merry had driven away from his place Saturday morning with a covered wagon, but no further trace of him has been discovered. Hickey also said that James Smith was present when Merry killed his wife. The three men sat up Friday night and tried to restore Mrs. Merry. On Saturday Merry, he says, decided to kill her. Merry, although still in the city, has successfully eluded the police.

THAWED THE NITRO-GLYCERINE

And It in Turn "Thawed" a Hole in the Ground Where the House Was.

Chesterfield, Ind., Nov. 27.—An explosion of nitro-glycerine occurred one-half mile west of this city at 9:10 o'clock Thursday night. Sixty quarts of nitro-glycerine were hauled there for the purpose of shooting a gas well. The explosive was placed in a large zinc tub located at the end of a steam exhaust pipe for the purpose of thawing out the mixture. It is the theory that the tub became overheated, causing an explosion with disastrous results. A hole ten feet long and several in depth was torn in the earth. The engine was blown to pieces.

Drillers Haney and McGuire had a remarkable escape. They were standing within thirty feet of the scene of the accident and were hurled twenty feet by the force of the explosion, but with the exception of a few bruises they escaped unhurt. Persons a mile away were lifted from their feet by the concussion and the jar was felt for ten miles. Fire followed the explosion, but the flames were quickly extinguished.

AUSTRO-HUNGARIAN CABINET OUT.

Members Resign Their Portfolios as a Result of the Recent Row.

Vienna, Nov. 29.—The members of the Austrian ministry yesterday tendered their resignations to Emperor Francis Joseph, who accepted them and entrusted Baron Gautsch, who holds the portfolio of public instruction of the retiring ministry, with the task of forming a new cabinet.

The cabinet decided to resign about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the council. Emperor Francis Joseph had previously received Count Baden, Baron Banffy (the Hungarian prime minister), Count Welsersheim (the Austrian minister of National Defense), and Baron Gautsch. It is asserted that the emperor at first declined to accept the resignation of the cabinet, but Count Baden replied: "Your majesty, I cannot take the responsibility. Bloodshed will ensue if I remain in office." Thereupon the emperor reluctantly accepted the resignation.

WOOD ALCOHOL KILLS SEVEN MEN.

Seventeen More May Die—Mixed with Cheap Whisky by a Dealer.

Mapleview, Ala., Dec. 1.—Seven men are dead and seventeen more are not expected to live from the result of drinking a mixture of wood alcohol and cheap whisky. The drink was bought in Selma, Ala., by Bill Anderson and another farmer, and brought here by them and retailed to farmers and laborers on the Mobile and Ohio extension which is in process of construction through this place. A great number of farmers and railroad hands purchased some of the mixture, and immediately after drinking the concoction were taken violently ill.

No physician was at hand and many of them died before attention could be given them. The alcohol was labeled "for mixing paint only." The affair has created a great sensation. Anderson and his partner are among the dead.

Des Moines, Ia., Dec. 1.—The Capital City Gas Light company announces a reduction in the price of from $1.30 per 1,000 feet to $1.25. Thousands of Lives Lost and Millions in Property Destroyed.

San Francisco, Nov. 29.—The typhoon which swept over the Philippine islands on the 6th of October was the cause of one of the worst disasters that has been reported from the southern ocean in many years, if not in the history of that section. Details of the storm did not reach Hong Kong until the 1st of November. Several towns were swept and blown away. Fully 400 Europeans were drowned, and it is estimated that 6,000 natives perished. The hurricane struck the island at the bay of Santa Paula in the province of Samar. It devastated the entire southern portion of the island and cut off communication with the rest of the world for two days. On the 12th the hurricane reached Leyte, and struck the capital of Tacloban with great fury.

In less than one-half hour the town was a mass of ruins. The natives were panic-stricken and tried to make their way to clear ground. Four hundred of them were buried beneath the debris of wrecked buildings and 125 corpses of Europeans were recovered from the ruins when the native authorities instituted a search for the dead. Reports from the southern coast were received which claimed that a score of small trading vessels and two Sydney traders were blown ashore and the crews drowned. The sea swept inland nearly a mile, destroying property valued at several million dollars and causing wholesale deaths among the natives.
